

Troy Moore

STAND-UP COMEDIAN

Bio

Troy began his stand-up comedy career in 2011 while attending Rowan University. Since then, he has frequently performed at clubs and venues in the Philadelphia, New Jersey and New York areas. He has opened for well-known comics Gilbert Gottfried and Mark Normand and has toured as the opening act for Jay Black at a variety of clubs and colleges on the East Coast. He is currently featured on NJ 101.5's "Speaking Comedy" Podcast. His material includes jokes about his girlfriend, family, and previous job struggles, all of which give him plenty to talk about.
